Medium Rigid Truck Driver Training

Course Details: Medium Rigid Truck Driver Licence Training

This course is for new truck drivers, drivers of motor homes, small school buses, pony club and smaller delivery trucks. Call Ideal now and see which course best suits your driving needs.

Basic Overview of Medium Rigid vehicle type

More than 8 TON GVM (2 axle only). We supply you with pre-licence training, as well as road rules updates, so you are well prepared for your driving test.

Basic requirements

Queensland Transport requires that the student has held a car licence for a period of at least one year (1 year).

How it works

Ideal Driving School conducts one hour lessons and training is competency based. Once the student is competent with their driver licence training a practical driving test with Queensland Transport can be booked. The student will complete the test in the same training vehicle with the Queensland Transport examiner.

Lesson Times

Ideal Driving School conducts lessons Monday-Friday 7am-5pm and also on Saturdays from 7am. All Saturday lessons are required to be pre-paid. We suggest that students do one lesson per week or even a two hour block, depending on their availability and budget.

Lessons required to attain a licence

On average the number of lessons for a person who has never had truck driving experience (a raw beginner) is approximately 5 plus an hour for the test. This is for the hire of the truck for one hour whilst undertaking the Queensland Transport test.

Note: This is an indicative figure only and cannot be taken or read as a quote.
